Spring 2004, Catalog 43
1. Missouri Territory formerly Louisiana, Mathew Carey, 1814, 12 x 14.25, outline hand color

A grand and significant map of the new American possession, which tackles the mystery of this vast land with the latest substance, and honest conjecture. Reaching from the Mississippi River to the California Coast (here “New Albion”), contained on the north by the “Probable North Boundary of the Missouri Territory” and on the south by “Probable Southern Boundary”. The northern boundary reaches from the Lake of the woods passing just south of Lake Winnipeg, meandering through native tribes coming to rest at the south end of Puget Sound in “New Georgia”. The treatment of the Missouri River and its headwaters are a Lewis & Clark based inclusion, giving foundation to the upper Plains drainage. The southern boundary follows the Colorado river up from the Gulf of Mexico, curving past Taos, New Mexico, and after following the “Arkan saw” river into the mountains (here “Stoney Mountains”) it swerves to the coast, ending just north “F.S Francisco”. This is a beautiful engraving on a strong sheet with large margins. Condition is very good with some mild sporadic foxing, and a small blemish in California. Wheat 315. $1900.00

2. United States of America, John Melish (Carey & Lea), 1822, 21 x 17, full hand color

A key and influential map of the United States including the most recent information from Lewis & Clark, Pike, and Long. A fascinating map with many facets perhaps the most interesting being he exploration and settlement of the recent Louisiana purchase. Now an expansive American territory outlined in green, the once French owned land sweeps across the “Great American Desert”, the “Black Hills” and into the “Rocky Mountains” and the rivers charted by the Corps of Discovery. The most recent states and territories include Missouri and Arkansas with a joint vertical western boundary, a large “North West Terry” covering most of Wisconsin and part of Minnesota, and “Michigan Terry.” “Military Bounty Lands” are shown covering most of Illinois west of the Illinois river. In the eastern states roads are profusely noted as they connect state to state. And west of the Mississippi and throughout the Plains dozens of native tribes and their villages are noted. Condition is very good with unusually good margins, strong color and the expected mild transference. Wheat 352. $1700.00

3. Carte Du Territoire D’Arkansa et des autres Territoires Des Etats-Unis, Buchon, 1825, 14 x 14 on a 27 x 20.5 sheet, outline hand color

An important map based on the the explorations of Major Long, showing the West with many interesting notations. It was Long who led an expedition across the Plains along the Platte River, to the front range where they encountered “the Highest Peak” (now Longs Peak), “James Peak” (now Pikes Peak), and traced the Arkansas River back east. It was also Long who called the western plains “The Great Desert” (here “Grand Desert”). Throughout this map we see Long’s translated notations such as the note in the heart of the Plains that states, “The Great Desert is frequented by roving bands of Indians who have no fixed place of residence but roam from place to place in quest of game”. Reaching from the primitive states and territories of Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas and “Wisconsin Michigan”, this map spans to Taos New Mexico and north to the Black Hills. This fine French edition by Buchon is complimented by descriptive text, and well retains its original color. Condition is very good with only a few light marginal blemishes. $850.00

4. Map of the Western Territory &c., W. Hood – US Govt., 1834, 17.25 x 18, outline hand color

An early government report map that accompanied an Indian affairs publication which is uncommon and a bit under appreciated. Not only does it distinguish the land tracts for each tribe, but it also shows a sharp depiction of the Santa Fe trail, along with some of its landmarks and fresh water sources along the way. Cutting through several of the Indian tracts is a line running north to south stating “Western boundary of habitable Lands”. The coverage for the front range of Rockies is primitive, but does include general notations for the “Spanish Peaks” as well as the “Larimer Peaks” (Laramie) further north. Condition is very good with some light browning and even browning to the entire sheet and close margins as expected. A nice copy. $750.00

5. Final Report of the United States Geological Survey of Nebraska and portions of the adjacent territories, F.V. Hayden, 1872, +264pp, 11 plates and large folding map

Perhaps the rarest of Hayden’s publications, this report covering Nebraska and the West includes a the rare large geologic map for the Middle West based off the work of Warren with “Geology by F.V. Hayden M.D.” Shows general strata from the Canadian border to Colorado and Kansas, each hand colored. Eleven additional plates illustrate fossils and shells. The text is worn with both boards present and attached. The spine is taped, but stable. Several library stamps from different owners over the last century, including an impression stamp on the title page “Library of James Hall”. The large folding map has significant separation at several folds, but all the information is present. The hand color is strong. We’ve only had this map once before in all our years of business. $650.00
Welcome to our spring catalog, inside you will find a number of firsts, The first map of San Francisco (#117) the first of New Orleans (in Dutch #28), and most notably the first of Kentucky and the area, the Filson (#26). In between, you’ll find our typical diverse selection of maps and views from things historic, to things colorful and pictorial.

Note also a wealth of Tallis maps in this catalog. It’s been years since we’ve offered such a set of these fine maps that offer the latest information for the time, with unparalleled decorative presentation. Enjoy,

Alanna & Curtis Bird

1. A Mapp or..., Blome

2. The World on..., Tallis

3. Planigloben, Brockhaus

4. Navy League Map..., Navy League

5. Eastern Hemisphere and Western Hemisphere, Tallis, London, 1851, 11 x 15, unique decorative border (two maps)

These two maps together make a striking decorative world map. The maps of the Eastern and Western Hemispheres were the most elaborately engraved of any of the Tallis maps. Here you can see the elaborate scroll work that surrounded the map. Interlaced in the scroll are twelve vignettes of representative peoples and animals of the hemisphere. An amazing elaborate map. Condition is very good with close margins as expected. (Illustrated on back cover) $725.00

NORTH AMERICA & UNITED STATES

6. (North America) Amerique Septentrionale Corrige et Augmentee, Vosgien, Paris, c1830, 8 x 9, black & white as issued

A fine French engraving with some tremendously unique qualities. While the United States is detailed with its territories reaching from the coast, west to the lower Mississippi River, the entirety of the US is shown contained south and east of the Ohio River, and beyond the truncated United States is an enormous nation of “COLOMBIE”, reaching practically from coast to coast and up into Canada. Aside from this novelty, the map also includes good detail for the Southwest, the great Pike Lake, Quivira, as well as decent coverage for the Canadian interior. Condition is good with a close right hand margin. A rare find. $260.00

A colorful and decorative continental map showing the state and territories of the time, along with a “heart shaped” Republic of Texas. Surrounded by a attractively detailed border this map includes the large tribal territories, for the Sioux (throughout present day Iowa), Osage (Kansas,etc), Mandan (Montana,etc), etc. Condition is very good, and would look wonderful framed. $180.00

8. (Western Hemisphere) North America and South America (two maps matted side by side), Tallis, London, 1851, each map 13.5 x 9.5, some outline color.

Tallis produced some of the most decorative maps issued in the 19th century. All have decorative vignettes and the continental maps generally have a number. In this case the map of North America is surrounded by 10 small vignettes and South America has eight mainly relating to native life and the animals of the regions. These maps are highly decorative in themselves but here they are matted side by side and make one of the most decorative maps of America available from this period. Very good. $500.00

9. (North America) NORDAMERIKA, Brockhaus, c1860, 17.75 x 13.5, some printed color

With a topographical map of the continent at the center this decorative piece is surrounded with wonderful scenes of indigenous interest. These are fine and articulate vignettes, not greatly romanticized. Many are specific such as the Landscape of the Red River Valley, or the church of Santo Domingo (New Mexico), but there are also polar scenes showing animals and sea life, or even the use of slaves harvesting sugar or cotton. Also included are a few Indians named by tribes and a funny image of a bald eagle swooping down on turkeys and a lone skunk. An uncommon map. Condition is good with some supportive repairs to the centerfold. $475.00
10. (United States) United States, Tallis, London, 1851, 11 x 15, some outline color, unique decorative border.

11. (United States) Etats-Unis, Vuillemin, Paris, c1861, 9 x 12.25, outline hand color

An attractive hand colored engraving showing the US with interesting depictions of the western territories. This is an interesting conglomeration of short lived territorial boundaries. Includes the "L" shaped Washington, and a small Arizona territory existing only south of the Gila. It also shows a unique depiction of Nebraska running just below Dakota territory and then angling west above Colorado, and spanning to the Canadian border. An interesting error also neglects Minnesota and just shows a sprawling Wisconsin. Condition is very good. $185.00

12. (United States) Map of the United States and Territories 1776 - 1876, Mitchell, 1876, 12.5 x 33.5, Full hand color

A centenary map of the nation comparing the thirteen colonies with the transcontinental expanse of the country 100 years old. Both maps on the sheet retain their bold hand color, and are complimented by vignettes of the liberty bell, Independence Hall, as well as statistics for each state and territory. The 1876 map includes the latest in railroad development as well as some old trails. The Santa Fe trail is noted "Route to Santa Fe" as well as the route from Salt Lake City to "Los Angelos" California. Condition is good save for some weak corner folds. $175.00

13. (United States) Bootleggers Map of the United States, Edward McCandlish, c1925, 22 x 32, uncolored.

A unique map of the nation dealing with the theme of alcohol and prohibition, done at the time, and in a style unique and clever. While place names are spoofed ("Chi-keg-o", "Scnec-Toddy", "Misis-SIP-i"), nothing is sacred and everything is an alcohol pun, down to the humor of the time and topic. Condition very good. $145.00

14. Asher & Adams Arkansas & portion of... (Connecticut)

This is the first map of the city of San Francisco. It was issued in a government report regarding land titles and several of the locations of the questioned titles are listed on the map. It shows the city with the original streets as far as Townsend and Larkin and the places where the bay was already being filled in. An uncommon map rarely seen today. Condition is good with two minor tears that run into the image, but have been mended. $160.00

15. The Sacramento Valley..., Tyson/Derby

Sacramento at Coloma, Curtis, Socorcar Camp and numerous small towns are named and the existing roads shown. Probably the best engraved and most desirable of the Tyson maps for its concentration on this critical area. Number 149 in Wheat who describes it to be of major importance. An excellent copy. $375.00

16. (California) CALIFORNIA, Charles Owen - State of California, 1936, 16.5 x 38, A thirties bird's-eye view of the entire state with all the points of interest and a real feel for the time. Done as a two tone while and green, this map shows all the detail for the state, such as its roads, railroads, towns, etc. with a simple flair. A decorative ribbon of vignettes holds the title with scenes of everything from settlers and John Fremont to football and Hollywood. Condition is good. $80.00

17. (California-San Francisco) Official Map of San Francisco Compiled From the Field Notes of the Official Re-Survey made by William M. Eddy Surveyor of the Town of San Francisco California, US Govt., Washington, 1849, 25 x 20, some outline hand color

Perhaps the best reference for the subject, this comprehensive map for the state features several insets for key areas of interest, all nicely presented with vignettes of the trains that ran these lines. This nice thematic map includes a lot of information, but isn’t dense and presents nicely. Emblems for the major lines are shown by the title at the bottom. $75.00

18. (Colorado) Colorado Railroad Map, Kalmbach Publishing Co., 1943, 22 x 36, full color

A great hand colored county map of the state with a large inset for the tip of the state and the Keys. Notes many place names, as well as showing the railroad development. Condition is very good with some marginal browning. $185.00

19. (Connecticut) Connecticut, Finley, 1824, 9 x 11.25, full hand color

A early and colorful map by a notable American map maker. Complimented by strong hand color, this fine engraving includes the towns and roads of the time. Condition is good with some soiling and discoloration. $200.00

20. (Florida) Asher & Adams Florida, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

A great hand colored county map of the state with a large inset for the tip of the state and the Keys. Notes many place names, as well as showing the railroad development. Condition is very good with some marginal browning. $185.00

21. (Georgia, Alabama) Asher & Adams Georgia & Alabama, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

A attractive hand colored map of these states featuring the development of the time. Notably these maps do well for showing the railroads of the time and the small towns that they connected. Condition is very good. $85.00

22. (Idaho) Territory of Idaho, McFarland-Dept. of Interior, General Land Office, 1883, 29 x 25, printed color

This map was originally issued as a separate map. It shows the entire territory in remarkable detail, showing each of the thirteen counties and the towns and rivers of the territory. It is coded to show Indian lands, railroads, railroad land grants, townships and similar detail. The counties are in
22. Territory of Idaho, GLO

23. (Idaho) Blazed Trails in Idaho, The Continental Oil Company - Rand McNally, 1921, 26 x 21, some printed color

Keyed to show all the Trail and Highway markings, this is an exhaustive early resource for the states roads and highways, not to mention all the small towns. Condition is exceptionally good for the map and its decorative folding cover. $80.00

24. (Iowa) Asher & Adams' Iowa, Asher & Adams, 1872, 16.5 x 23, full hand color

What had just been Sioux territory a few decades earlier is now divided into counties dotted with towns and county seats. Railroads proposed and extent are shown along with their dozens of stops. Condition is good save for one spot of foxing along the centerfold. $90.00

25. (Kansas) Map of Kansas, Santa Fe RR, 1910, 13.5 x 20, full printed color

A pocket folding map used to advertise the “Sewell Land Company”. Shows the entire state with good detail, and has a large red circle in eastern Kansas marking the home office of the advertisers in Garnet Kansas. Caption at the bottom of the maps shows the Santa Fe RR emblem and states “Emigrant Agents for the Santa Fe Railroad”. Condition very good save for a small upper fold with minor loss, mostly marginal. $90.00

26. (Kentucky) Carte De Kentucke, d’ apres le Observations actuell; Dediee A L’ Honorable Congress des Etats – Unis De I’ Amerique et Son Excellence George Washington, Commandant en chef des ses Armeez Par leur tres humble Serviteur, John Filson, 1785, Paris, 14 x 12.75 (map), 8.5 x 5.5 (text), pp 232

While it is specifically a rare and early map showing Kentucky and its three large counties, it more so is a map showing some of the first steps of migration from the settled east coast, past the Appalachians, and into the continent. John Filson (1747-1786), a surveyor and educator settling in Lexington on a large tract of land, taught school and learned about the area. This is the French edition of the book and map which he published about his new homeland in which he specifically thanks the assistance of many of Kentucky’s founding fathers, such as Daniel Boone, James Harrod and Levi Todd, among others, for their information. Indeed the map does note the homes of “Boon”, “Todd” and others. Dedicated in the title to the US Congress and the “Excellent” George Washington with whom Filson corresponded, the Filson map has been called “a monument of American mapmaking from the nation’s earliest period”. Much has been made of the French edition’s cartographic superiority, as the quality of engraving and paper are much better than the English editions, this is no exception and in very good condition. The soft bound, blue paper cover is light and clean with very minor instances of small foxing. The map is strong outlined color. Most atlas maps derive from these GLO maps but these large federally issued maps are rare today. Some marginal water staining, not affecting the image. $275.00

27. (Kentucky & Tennessee) Asher & Adams Kentucky & Tennessee, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

Here we see these two southern states that are so often paired together. This attractive hand colored map features good detail for the development of the time, with notable good treatment of the railroads of the area. Clusters of small towns line the path of each rail line as they cross from county to county. Condition is very good. $85.00

28. (Louisiana - New Orleans) Groenvlakte van Nieuw Orleans, de Hoofdstad van Louisiana. - De Uilloop van de River Mississippi. - De Oostelijke Ingang van de Mississip, met een Plan van het Fort, ‘t welk het Kanaal beherrfeht., Tifton, Amsterdam, 1762, 13.25 x 17.5, Full hand color

A beautiful engraving of three maps on one sheet showing early depictions of the city of New Orleans and its vicinity, out to the mouth of the Mississippi River. This first plan of the city shows the town divided into 44 blocks noting everything from buildings and gardens to canals and roads. Next to it is a regional map showing the situation of the town and the river. And the third shows the position of “Fort La Balise” situated on the islands and sandbars of the river’s mouth (later destroyed in a hurricane). Condition is very good with good margins. $1000.00

29. (Massachusetts- Boston) The Bostonian’s Map of Boston, S.W. Hilton, 1928, 9.5 x 13, B & W as issued. A map full of 1920’s style showing you where to find everything from a lawyer and dentist, to the Bohemians (art district) and antique dealers. This map shows the general contours to the city with a vignette for each activity, such as “Craftsmen’s Paradise Fayette Street” or “Sugar Refinery South Boston” done in a style very similar to the later work of Ruth Taylor White. $75.00

30. (Massachusetts-Marblehead) Map of Marblehead Mass., Geo H. Walker & Co, c1890, 18 x 26, printed color

The Walker company was a prolific and thorough publisher of maps for their native Massachusetts. This folding pocket map for Marblehead shows the town and it’s streets as it was the turn of the century. Condition is very good, with only one or two supportive repairs to corner folds. Complete with it’s original folding cover. $85.00

31. (Michigan) Asher & Adams’ Michigan, Asher & Adam s, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

Showcasing the entire of Michigan this attractively hand colored map spawns from the remote wilds of the UP down to the bustling counties of the south and the major towns of Detroit and Kalamazoo. Shows good detail for the smallest creeks and rivers throughout. $120.00

32. (Middle West) Map of the Missouri Pacific Railway, Denver & Rio Grande System, St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway, Texas & Pacific Railway, International & Great Northern Railroad, St. Louis Southwestern Railway, MoPac, 1910, 24 x 35, full color

A focused railroad map reaching from Chicago to Salt Lake City, from New Orleans to Laredo, Texas, showing detail for all the lines mentioned in the title, as well as other systems they cross. The map is topically focused showing the heart of the Middle West but doesn’t neglect the smallest of towns. Condition is good save for a very close left margin. $175.00

33. (Missouri) Asher & Adams’ Missouri, Asher & Adams, 1872, 16.5 x 23, full hand color

An attractive map of the state with all the established and proposed rail lines of the time. While the north is well connected, the southern part of the state shows three or four proposed lines that would connect the country to the west and south. The hand color has held up well and the condition is good with some minor soilng. $100.00

34. (Minnesota) Asher & Adams’ Minnesota, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

A handsome double page map of the state as it was still growing and settling. Hand colored by county and in very good condition. $90.00
35. (New England) Bird's-Eye-View New York to Boston showing all points of interest..., Hammond, c1920, 9.5 x 28, printed color

While most turn of the century birds eye views have a stylized simplicity, this very much bears the influence of the early air age, looking more like an aerial photo than the cartoonish views that preceded it. While the image is artistic, no longer do exaggerated buildings pop up on the horizon, here you see a realistic landscape which fades into the distance. Notes many place names as well as the ship routes along the coast. Several airplanes are flying about. The condition of both the map and its card covers are pristine. $145.00

36. (New Jersey) A Plan of the Northern Part of New Jersey, shewing the Positions of the American and British Armies after crossing the North River in 1776, Marshall, 1807, 16.5 x 10, B&W as issued

A fine engraving showing a better part of New Jersey from Tappen and Dobb's Ferry down to Trenton. Here the Hudson is named the "North River", and it passes a small NYC at the tip of Manhattan. Also shows Staten Island and a portion of Long Island. Details well the roads and then small towns of New Jersey along with some basic topography. Condition is good with some mild discoloration along the fold, light browning to the sheet, and some transference. $280.00

37. (New York) The Traveller's Companion. Morrison's North River Traveller's Companion. Morrison, Philadelphia, c1832, 8.5 x 22.5, some outline hand color

A rare folding pocket map for the traveler with a strip map at the bottom of the Hudson River spanning from Glenville and Jessup' Landing in Warren County, down to Staten Island. Complimented by a set of five charts giving statistics for the roads and canals of the time. In its original board folding cover. Paper is lightly browned, with some sporadic foxing, some separation on the corner folds, some minor loss on one or two folds. $365.00

38. (New York) Map of the State of New York with the Latest Improvements by H. Phelps, New York, c1833, 16 x 20, outline hand color

An uncommon folding pocket map of the state with some interesting insets showing the county populations, profiles of the "western" and "northern" canals, as well as the roads and routes of the state, and even "Daily papers printed in the state of New York." Condition is good with some minor loss on the corner folds, and minor fold repairs. $400.00

39. (New York - New York City) A Plan of New York Islands &c. Shewing the Position of the American and British Armies, before, at and after the Engagement on the Heights, August 17th 1776, Marshall, 1807, 16.5 x 10.25, B&W as issued

Covers the pivotal moment in the revolution as the British successfully attack Long Island which in turn led Washington to wisely lead his men under the cloak of a foggy night to escape across the East River and prevent probable decimation of the American Army. While this map includes the basics of towns, roads and terrain, it also shows specific troop movements throughout the primitive New York landscape. Condition is good with some light browning to the paper and transference. Close right margin which has been restored in one small area. $290.00

40. (New York) A Plan of the Country from Frog's Point to Croton River shewing the Positions of the American and British Armies from the 12th of October 1776 until the engagement on the White Plains on the 28th, Marshall, 1807, 16.5 x 9, B&W as issued.

Done not long after the US revolution, this excellent map details the battles around the then small communities north of New York City. Basically covering the area from Chelsea to Mamaroneck and up to Croton. Interesting detail for early roads as well as the towns and topography of the time. Condition is good with some mild transference and light discoloration near the fold. $290.00

41. (New York- New York City) In the Heart of Greater New York..., C.S. Hammond, 1924, 16 x 22.25, printed color

A great advertising birds eye view of the city done at the birth of the "Department store" era for the new up and coming "John Wanamaker Store". Outlining it's perfectly central location and delivery centers around the area, it has a quaint charm. The base for the image spans from Mountain View and Atlantic Highlands NJ, out to Riverhead, Greenwich and Hempstead. Names the major roads of the time. Condition is very good. $75.00

42. (New York - Greenwich Village) The lifted face of Greenwich Village, A non-aligned map, Chas. Slackman, 1963, 10 x 15.75

A magazine map showing you what the New York City tourist guide wouldn't. A key on the left mentions over a hundred different sights in the Village which typically revolves around what might be thought of as the "seedy" culture of the area. While many of the spots noted relate to bars and women, there are also notations for bookstores, cinemas, or "Where you store paintings for the out-door Art Show". Uniquely this map features no grid for streets so street names float amidst the dozens of vignettes. Condition is good. $60.00 A map of what the tourist guide wouldn't show you

43. (North Carolina, South Carolina) Asher & Adams North Carolina and South Carolina, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16.5, full hand color

A fine hand colored map of these Southeast coastal states. Shows basic information for the towns and railroads of the time as well as the many rivers and some basic topography. A great reference in very good condition. $85.00

44. (Ohio) Being a Cartograph of Ohio... A good State to Visit- Better yet to live in, Ohio Commission to A Century of Progress, 1934, 20 x18, full color, issued folded.

This large map is of the style almost unique to the 1930's. The cities and main routes are shown but the main purpose is to describe the history and economics of Ohio with many small sketches and descriptions of the features of the state. All set on a rather detailed topographical base map. $80.00

45. (Oklahoma) Oil and Gas Producing Areas in Oklahoma, OK Geo Survey, 1923, 17 x 31.5

Here we have Oklahoma at its petroleum zenith, when it was the nation's leading producer. Catching the state toward the end of its first drilling boom, this map names and numbers 242 different oil and gas fields. Obviously most dense from Bartlesville to Okmulgee, but sites are littered practically throughout the entire state. Condition is very good. Notably an overlay covers the Oklahoma Geological Survey attribution with "Bureau of Geology Norman, Oklahoma". $55.00
46. Moonlight Scene in The Far West, Orcutt Litho Co Chicago, c1880, 18 x 25.5, Full printed color.
A rare promotional birds eye view dramatizing the development of the West and specifically Portland Oregon. In the foreground are two trains passing, one hauling threshing machines, brightly illuminated by the other trains light. In the moonlit distance are mountains and the early silhouette of Portland on the banks of the Willamette. Stamped just above the title of the piece reads “Compliments of Staver & Walker, Portland, Oregon” (a machinery and carriage company). A classic image from the sparks flying from the train’s smokestacks over the lush moonlit hills. Condition is good with some supportive repairs to the back and anticipate browning to the paper. Some sporadic foxing in the lower margin near the titling. Margins are close though still very framable. $725.00

47. A Map of the Country From Rariton River in East Jersey..., Marshall, 1807, 10.25 x 15.75, B & W as issued.
A great map that emphasizes the towns and connecting roads of the area but it also notes the positions of the Armies at several critical points such as Princeton, Brandywine, and Trenton. A fine engraving with particular interest for the development around Philadelphia. Condition is good with some very light browning to the centerfold and transference. $290.00

An attractive hand colored map of the area which strikes you for the detail and attention that has been paid to railway development and the towns that sprang up nearby. As railroads weave through the counties dozens of small towns and whistle stops are each named, as well as the rail line that services them. $90.00

49. Plan of the Siege of Charleston ..., Marshall, 1807, 10 x 15, B & W as issued.
The map covers a wider area around the city than does most maps because it shows all the forts and batteries and the location of the fleet. Its focus is on the siege rather than the city but it is a wonderful map of the area, with the fleet off shore, the batteries and siege lines. Condition is good with some very light browning to the centerfold and transference. $290.00

50. (Southeast) A Map of those parts of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina & Georgia which were the scenes of the most important Operations of the Southern Armies, Marshall, Philadelphia, 1807, 14.75 x 10.5, B & W as issued.
A fine engraving of the Southeast from Chesapeake Bay, south to Savannah Georgia. A great and early resource noting the towns and roads of the time, along with basic topography. Most of the development shown is along the major rivers of the area. Condition is good save for some transference and sporadic foxing, mostly on the centerfold. $275.00

51. (Southwest, Oklahoma-New Mexico) Map Showing The Route of E.F. Beale From Fort Smith, Ark. To Albuquerque N.M., Beale - US Govt., 1860, 7.25 x 49.5, B & W as issued.
In 1853, an American frontiersman, who crossed the continent many times, frequently scouting new routes to California. As an Army lieutenant, he became a hero in the Mexican War, when he and Kit Carson slipped through enemy lines to get help. Beale’s Wagon Road shown on this map was one of three major routes to California, prior to the Civil War. Portions of Beale’s Road exist today in the remnants of old route 66. Condition is good with some foxing. $210.00

52. (Texas) Asher & Adams Texas, Asher & Adams, 1872, 23 x 16, full hand color.
A large hand colored map of the great state of Texas, showing mostly the eastern part of the state spanning from Archer in the north, to Duval and Corpus Christi in the south. A large inset covers the southern tip of Texas all the from Corpus to Brownsville. Attractive hand color distinguishes each county. $180.00

53. (Texas) Official Texas Brags Map of North America, Strom-Randolph, Houston; c1950 17 X 22.25, full color
A classic tongue in cheek map of the state and its geographic importance, full of puns, showing all of the continent and a more than ample Texas. A sought after pictorial map. Very good condition. $125.00

54. (Virginia - York) Plan of the Investment and Attack of York in Virginia, Marshall, 1807, 10 x 8.5, B & W
A fine map accounting the American battle in Yorktown in which the French came to our aid by land and sea and helped gain the British surrender, as noted on the map “Field where the British laid down their arms”. This was one of the last battles of the era in which Washington himself fired the first American cannon shot. Names the troop positions and shows the roads and basic terrain from the tip of Gloucester Point to then environs of Yorktown. Condition is very good with some marginal soiling and a close left margin. $140.00

55. (Virginia ) Fortress Monroe, Magnus, c1864, 7.25 x 10, hand color
Magnus was a Civil War era publisher of patriotic stationery and letterhead, issuing stationery that was complimented by maps or views that were relevant to the Union cause. This is an odd piece of Magnus work that is both a birds eye view and a map. The birds eye is titled “Fortress Monroe, Old Point” Comfort and Hygeia Hotel, Va.,” and the map is “Map of Fortress Monroe and Surroundings”. The map covers the Hampton - Norfolk area, and notes several boats in the James River, including the “Congress”, “Cumberland”, as well as the “Monitor” and “Merrimac”. Condition is good though the margins are very close. $100.00

56. (West) Pony Express Route April 3, 1860- October 24, 1861, Union Pacific Railroad, c1950, 9.5 x 29, full printed color
Perhaps the first American information super highway, it was working both day and night, year round. A system of riders changing horses every ten or so miles made it possible to get information from St Joseph, Missouri to Sacramento, California in ten days, bringing the far west much closer to the east. This famous service is here commemorated by the Union Pacific, in a handsome map of the route surrounded by many vignettes of the route and its ports. The Pony Express ended at the beginning of the Civil War with the completion of the telegraph lines. Condition is very good. $90.00

53. Official Texas Brags Map of North America...
54. Plan of the Investment..., Marshall
55. Fortress Monroe, Magnus
56. Pony Express Route...
57. (Wisconsin) Asher & Adams’ Wisconsin, Asher & Adams, 1872, 16.5 x 23, full hand color.
   A large and attractive map with a rapidly growing Wisconsin well centered. While rail lines sparsely run through the southern counties of the state there are two lines reaching north to Menomonee and west from Eau Claire to Minneapolis. The northern counties are large with few towns, save for one or two. Condition is good save for some soiling marginally and sporadically in neighboring Minnesota. $95.00

   A pocket map that unfolds into a stunning map of Minnesota and Wisconsin at the turn of the century. As the area continues to grow and develop, more towns pop up in the north, and railroads continue to stretch into the wilderness. Condition is good with a few supportive repairs to the corner folds. $100.00

MAPS OF CANADA
