

(New York City) Pique - Park East, 1951, 11.5 x 8.75, Full color

A caricature map from a simpler time. In this anthropomorphic approach the isle of Manhattan is a neatly dressed gent, Brooklyn Queens is an admiring lady, Staten Island is a basket of flowers and the Bronx is Cupid on a cloud with arrow drawn. A colorful image in good condition with some minor scuffing. Exceedingly rare. $125.00

Seasons Greetings,

Find enclosed a small portion of some interesting recent arrivals. As with any of our catalogs, our endeavor is to just skim the surface and mention some of the notable items, but this is far from our entire inventory. So please, if there's a specific interest, or you would like to see more of a topic or theme, feel free to contact us.

Our last catalog was well received, and we would like to thank you for your great response to our first attempt. In this next catalog, we continue to offer a diverse selection from maps by H. Moll made in 1695, to a map on how to get to the Woodstock Festival in 1969. In our last offering we had a few Japanese published maps that were quite popular, so find inside a few more items in this vein spanning from 1845 to 1886. And as always you'll find a mix of historic and decorative items from the centuries past.

Enjoy,

Curtis and Alanna Bird

World

3. (World) The World, Owens, London, 1755, 6.25 x 10.5, full hand color

A charming world map, finely engraved by Jeffreys. Surrounded with a quaint cartouche with the four elements of water, fire, soil and air personified in each corner of the map. The map shows the continents generally known, save for a distorted configuration for Australia ("New Holland"), and a great island floating off the Northwest coast of America, in the general area of Alaska, simply noted with "discovered 1741." Condition is good with a right hand margin which was close and has been extended. $245.00 3.

4. (World) Mappe - Monde Physique d'apres Buache, Anon - French, c1790, 8.75 x 12, Outline hand color

An interesting world map which is, as stated in the title, based on the work of Buache, and includes a new theory of underwater mountain ranges. The ocean floor conventionally had been thought to be generally flat with few features, but this map illustrated the new theory that the islands of the Pacific as well as the continents were geologically connected by massive mountain ranges that spanned even the oceans. Perhaps the most notable range connects west Africa and South America. Condition is good with large margins. $235.00

5. (World-Framed) Carte Generale Du Monde, ou Description..., Covens & Mortier, 1730, framed to 27 x 29, hand color

A fine map of the world in several different perspectives. This large mercator projection, includes plenty of issues of interest, including California being shown as an island. Above are several spheres which show the earth covered during the flood, then the world as it would look without water, next the situation of the earth in the heavens and a double hemisphere of the globe. The text throughout the map is in both French and German. Condition is excellent and has been beautifully framed. Shirley #427. $2500.00

6. (World) (World in hemispheres), Anon.- Japanese, 1886, 8.25 x 10, printed and hand color

The nicest Japanese published world map that we've offered. On a clean white sheet this fine map includes a comparative mountain and river chart below with a subtle mix of printed and hand coloring. Green and light tan print show land quality across the continents while a hand color distinguishes some continental boundaries. Place names are few but most note the major river and nation names. Condition is good with some minor smudging and a small spot of worming near the top of the centerfold, otherwise very good. A treasure for any collection. $240.00

1.

1. The World In Planisphere, Moll, London, 1695, 7 x 8 map on 12 x 7.5 sheet, B&W as issued

This was issued in perhaps the first edition of these great engravings. Above the map are the large bold words "Geography: or, a Particular Description Of all the Known Parts of the Earth." The world is in two hemispheres with a third small hemisphere of the north pole above the two. On each side is decorative scroll work. The world is an interesting one with California as an island and only a developing Australia and Pacific. Condition is good with the right margin being trimmed close. $600.00

2. (New York-Woodstock), The East Village Other, August 13, 1969, 15 x 10.25, printed color

It's an event that has been hailed as the climax of 60's counter-culture, and derided as a loud, muddy, drug-saturated debacle. Regardless your perspective, this map was issued by an underground newspaper, showing you how to get to the Woodstock Music and Art Fair, or "Three Days of Peace and Music." The map itself is a tangle of guitar necks, birds and women au naturel, in a style that brings to mind the Beatles "Yellow Submarine." Issued a day before the festival. Condition is very good. $120.00

7. (World) A New Map of the English Empire in America, Senex, c1719, 27 x 32, outline hand color

A handsomely framed map of a better portion of North America. This map was originally published by Morden and was later printed by Senex with some minor alterations. Notable for the enormous mountain range shown stretching from Michigan to Florida. The map has been backed by a conservator and is suffering from some loss around its edges and some ink staining in the lower left corner. Archivaly framed. $2100.00

8.

8. (Western Hemisphere) America, Moll, 1695, 8 x 7.5, B&W as issued

This map of the two continents is done with Molls typical sharp, clear style. California is now an island just south of the Strait of Anmian and close to leasso or Japan. Santa Fe and New Mexico are present on a river flowing west. The British and French colonies named with some of their cities such as Boston and Charles T. and, of course Central and South America are now in familiar style. There is no longer a continent around the south pole but a vaguely shaped New Zealand is named near the Solomon Islands. A nice copy with some overprinting in the margins and lower portion of map. $585.00

NORTH AMERICA & US

9. (North America) AMERICA SEPTENTRIONALIS Concinnata juxta Observationes ... 1770, Lotter, Augsburg, 18 x 22.75, Original full hand color

Based on the work of Delisle, this brightly colored and decorative map of North America shows a better portion of the continent with a solid, basic understanding. The major hydrography is reasonably proportionate and many place names are sighted. West of the Mississippi is vague with Spanish settlements up to Santa Fe being shown, but the issue of California is hedged showing it as neither an independent island, nor as a connected part of the continent. The hand coloring distinguishes colonial possessions from Canada to the Caribbean. $1500.00

10.

10. (North America) (North America), Anon.- Japanese, 1886, 10.25 x 8.25, printed and hand color

An attractive general map of the continent showing the basic rivers, mountain ranges, and notably the transcontinental railroad. Printed colors of green and light tan hint at general land quality while a red hand colored line shows some national borders. Two manuscript notations label Alaska and Baja California. The overall paper tone is lightly brown, but overall condition is good. $175.00

11. (North America) Map Illustrating the Extermination of The American Bison, Hornaday - US Govt., 1889, 23 x 17.5, printed color

Few maps so clearly tell a poignant tale. Here the animal that symbolized the untamed wild nature of America slowly recedes and vanishes. Dates on the map denote the bison's last presence in the region. It's interesting to see that the last sightings in states such as Idaho and Utah occurred as early as 1838. Condition is very good with the left margin very close as is typical. $240.00

12. (North America) A Map of English Plantation in America, Moll, 1695, 8 x 7.25, B&W

Covering the settlements along the coast of the Americas, this map reaches from Boston down to the northern coast of South America, noting the colonial territories along the way. Carolina consumes most of the south east coast contained by the "Apalachians" and beyond that "The Rickohockans" and Florida lay to the west. A nice engraving. $480.00 12.

13. (US) The American Union railroad map of the United States, Haasis & Lubrecht, New York, 1873, 37 x 55.25, Bold full hand color

With vibrant original hand color, this beautiful railroad map of the US shows relief by hachures, drainage, counties, cities and towns, roads and the railroad network. Surrounding charts give general information about each of the states and territories as well as the population by county. A colorful panorama titled "From the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean" stretches across the top of the map showing New York City to San Francisco. Includes a separately colored Yellowstone park. It's been proposed that these maps were used as promotion to entice European immigrants to settle in the US, and indeed this rare combination of keen attention to detail and stunning presentation surely could have caused such consideration. Condition is good with some marginal separation of the folds. See front cover for illustration. $5500.00 (cover)

14.

14. (US) United States No. 1 & No.2, Collins, London, c1852, each sheet 11.5 x 9.5, full hand color

This is a map of the United States in two sheets from a British atlas, which are matted together. The western sheet is modeled on a large Fremont style map and like it's companion is brightly colored. The map shows the states and territories of the period with a moderate amount of other detail as well. The territories of Washington, Oregon, Utah, New Mexico, Nebraska and Northwest Territory are all shown along with California and Texas. New Mexico is in its odd shape before the Gadsden Purchase when it ran west to California. The approximate region of Montana and Wyoming is shown as North-West territory, and Nebraska to the south has an odd convoluted shape that defies description. An unusual decorative map. Very good. $220.00 15.

15. (Alaska) A General Map of the Discoveries of Admiral De Fonte & Others, by m. De l'isle, Gentleman's Magazine, 1754, 8 x 10.5, B&W as issued

Although the map shows the Russian explorations, it contains the vast misconceptions then believed to exist by those who wanted a Northwest Passage. Several large straits exist in the region connecting the Pacific with the Hudson's Bay region and a large and impressive Sea of West is shown. Numerous citations on the map show "Beering's" and "Capt. Tchirikow's" routes, but it is really based on hope rather than reality. Condition is good with some subtle transference and very close margins. $250.00

16.

16. (Alabama) A New Map of Alabama, Mitchell, 1851, 16 x 13, full hand color

This attractive map shows the towns, counties and roads of the state but only a few railroads existed in Alabama at this time. The canals are in blue and an inset details the steamboat routes. The sheet is lightly browned and has some foxing. $85.00

17.

17. (Arkansas) A New Map of Arkansas, Mitchell, 1851, 16 x 13, full hand color

Colorful early map of Arkansas with numerous roads and towns shown throughout this thinly populated state. The sheet is lightly browned. $75.00

18.

18. (Arizona) Arizona, Walkers International Railroad Atlas, 1891, 25 x 18, full color

This is a scarce Walker railroad map of the state. These were licensed by Cram, but unlike the Cram maps, these were issued in full hand color. Each of the numerous steam and electric railroads is shown and color coded. It is a remarkably complete map. Very strong impression. $125.00

19.

19. (California) California, The Golden State, Lowell Jones, c1949, 22 x 16, full color

Here the resources and attractions of the Golden State are illustrated with a simple flair in a style not unlike Jo Mora. Condition is good though the margins are a bit close. $65.00 20.

20. (California - Los Angeles) Topographical Sketch of the Los Angeles Plains & Vicinity, August 1849, E.O.C. Ord, Lt. Artillery, 7.5x6.5., B&W as issued

A small map from Tysons report but possibly the earliest map of this area. It treats the region south to San Diego. There are only missions, a small Los Angeles, and a handful of roads in the area. Very good. $120.00

21.

21. (Colorado) Map of the Elk Mountains Colorado from Survey By G.B. Chittenden in 1874 with Geology by F.V. Hayden and W. H. Holmes, US Govt., Washington, 1876, 19 x 10, substantial color, large inset sketches of Snowmass Mountain and of the Castle Group

This map uses a combination of color and background printing to indicate the geology, but it is not colored in the tradition of geological maps that Hayden later employed. It covers the area from Crested Butte to the Roaring Fork and Castle Creek with Sopris on the far left. Large inset sketches of Snowmass Mountain and of the Castle Group. Very good. $110.00

22. (Colorado) Outline Map of the Middle Park Region and the Eastern Rocky Mountain Slope Showing Drainage, Roads, Trails, Peaks and Passes to Accompany the Geographic Report of G.R. Belcher, Hayden - US Govt., 1876, 19 x 22, B&W as issued

Hayden issued a number of preliminary maps of parts of Colorado before issuing his great atlas. This map shows the area from Denver to about the location of Minturn today and from Mt Evans to the Big Thompson River. It is nicely detailed showing rivers, peak names, towns, roads and trails. A good example. $160.00

23. (Colorado) (Colorado - Pacific Railroad Survey), US Govt.

Two maps issued by the Pacific Railroad Survey in the 1857 illustrating Gunnisons route on the 38th and 39th Parallels from about today's Kansas line through Colorado to the Wasatch Mountains where the party met a tragic end. Each map is about 24 x 24, B&W, and folded as issued. The two maps are:

1. Santa Fe Crossing to Coochetopa Pass
2. Coochetopa Pass to the Wasatch Mountains

These maps, pertaining to Colorado and part of Utah, are detailed topographical maps of the lands on either side of the route done in the style of Egloffstein and are the earliest detailed maps of this area. They are particularly detailed with respect to the region from the Spanish Peaks across the San Luis Valley and along the Gunnison River country. Issued folded with only minor problems to the folds which have supportive repairs. $475.00

24. (Colorado) Preliminary Map of Central Colorado Showing the Region Surveyed in 1873 and 1874, Primary Triangulation by J. T. Gardner, Topography by G.B. Becker, Henry Gannett, A.D. Wilson and S.B. Ladd, Hayden Survey, Washington, 1876, 25 x 22, uncolored as issued

This is a large and detailed early Hayden map covering most of the mountainous part of the state. It covers an area from Evans in the upper left to Animas City on the lower left. The map is more detailed than some of the earlier maps. It was done with a hachure technique rather than the topographic technique used in later Hayden maps. It is an interesting map with good detail-particularly of the rivers. $275.00

25. (Colorado) Topographical & Township Map of the State of Colorado compiled from U.S. Government Surveys & other authentic sources, Louis Nell, 1885

Serving on the survey crew of George Wheeler, Louis Nell had the first hand opportunity to review the West mile by mile when it was still in its infancy. After his duties came to an end, he chose to settle in Colorado, got married, and began publishing high quality maps of his adopted state. This map from 1885 is pretty early in his publishing and is incomparable for quality and detail. Condition is good though many folds are separated. Hand coloring is faded save for one or two northeastern counties which appear to have been touched up. Nell's maps are a superior reference. $1500.00

22.

24.

25.

26.

26. (Colorado Mining- Leadville) The Leadville Mining District Compiled from Official Records and Other Reliable Sources. Chas. F. Saunders - Denver Litho Co., January 1901, 46 x 31, substantial hand color

This superb claim map of the Leadville District shows the town grid at the time, as well as an index of the major holdings. These claims are in color "under the direction of the claimants." Certainly one of the best Leadville claim maps. Colorado mining claim maps are not common and this is in great condition. The sheet remains very light and it has only been rolled, not folded, likewise the margins are very good. $270.00

27.

27. (Florida) Map of Florida, Mitchell, 1851, 16 x13, full hand color

Scarce and colorful Mitchell map of Florida. Most counties are in the north, but the south is beginning to be divided up. Dade, Monroe and St. Lucie counties have all appeared, but Miami has yet to show up. Insets show St. Augustine, Pensacola and Tallahassee. A wealth of forts and Indian trails dot the land. $220.00

28.

28. (Florida- Miami) Meander Down To Miami Florida's Magic City, Suchy - Miami Herald, c1930, 22.75 x 19.25, brightly colored

A truly classic decorative map of the city during its zenith. Set in an attractive art deco style, and bright colors, it conveys a facet of the towns charm. The surrounding border shows silhouettes of the activities that can be enjoyed such as fishing, racing, golf, etc., while the top and bottom panels shows ships sailing and colorful birds. Insets show Florida itself as well as the nation. $125.00

29.

29. (Great Lakes) A Map of the Five Great Lakes with part of Pensilvania, New York, Canada and Hudsons Bay Territories &c., London Magazine, 1755, 8.5 x 10.5, uncolored as issued

This map resembles similar maps issued by Bellin and Robert, but the lakes are not quite the same and the map differs from them in other important respects. The region to the North is covered all the way to James Bay and the region to the West to the Lake of the Woods. The southern boundary of Hudson's Bay as settled by the treaty of Utrecht is shown as well as the boundary of the Six Nations which included the lakes east of Lake Michigan. Includes a pronounced depiction of the fictitious islands of Lake Superior. An old opening tear which reaches an inch or two into the images has been expertly repaired with no loss. A portion of the lower right hand margin has also been restored. $350.00 30.

30. (Hawaii) The Dole Map of the Hawaiian Islands, Hawaiian Pineapple Company, 1950, 19.5 x 38, full color

This map shows the island group filled with sketches of people, both contemporary and historic as they are at work and play. Shows everything from Capt Cook to tourists on horse back. The islands themselves are surrounded by a variety of ships, planes and sea life. A legend to the right explains each image. Good condition. $125.00

31. (Idaho) Idaho, Hardesty, 1883, 19.5 x 13, outline color

This large map shows each county including a very large Alturas County north of the Snake River. This map is particularly detailed with respect to the mining towns and roads in the state, noting "Mormon Wagon Road", "Emigrant Wagon Road" among others. Condition good with minor water stain in the upper left corner. $80.00

31.

32. (Indiana) A New Map of Indiana, Mitchell, 1851, 16 x 13, full hand color

Colorful early map of Indiana with both the canals and railroad system shown as well as numerous roads. There is a chart of the steamboat routes to one side. Surrounded by decorative border. $80.00

32.

33. (Iowa) Iowa, Fanning, 1853, 6.25 x 8.25, B&W as issued

Perhaps only a quarter of the state is divided into counties while the clear majority is still Indian lands. Many rivers are noted falling away from the large "Plateau du Coteau Prairies." A spectacular little map for primitive Iowa. Condition good with light foxing. $80.00

33.

34. (Kansas - Missouri) (Kansas & Missouri - Pacific Railroad Survey), US Govt.

Two maps issued by the Pacific Railroad Survey in the 1857 illustrating the heart of Kansas and Missouri as well as the southern reaches of Nebraska territory. Each map is about 31 x 23, B&W, and folded as issued. The two maps are:

1. Map No. 1 From the Western Boundary of Missouri to the Mouth of Trap Creek.
2. Map No. 2 From the Mouth of Trap Creek to the Santa Fe Crossing.

These maps capture early Kansas and Missouri with fine detail for the topography and drainage of the area with an accuracy that is unparalleled for the time. Issued folded with only minor problems to the folds. $225.00

34.

35. (Louisiana) Neuste Karte von Louisiana..., Meyer, Germany, 1845, 12 x 15, full color.

This is a rarely seen German map similar to those issued by Tanner, but more scarce. It shows each of the counties and many towns and cities together with the roads, canals and railroads. There is a large inset of New Orleans with major streets and buildings shown. Very good. $200.00

36. (Massachusetts-Boston) A Whimsical Map of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. 1944-45, Anon., 1945, 14.5 x 21.5, B & W as issued

An early cartoon map for the campus with each building named and illustrated with a pictorial pun. For instance the "Chemical Warfare bldg. 12" shows a giant insect being sprayed with a huge canister of "flit." This is an illustrated map we haven't encountered before, and the condition is good with soiling and tattering of the far out margins, but nothing that would effect the image in the least. $80.00

35.

37.

37. (Massachusetts-Boston) Bird's eye view of Boston, United States, Illustrated London News, 1872, 13 x 19.5, Full hand color

Showing streets, buildings and even naming some notable sights such as "Harvard University", this attractive view shows a bustling city with dozens of rail lines snaking to its center. The harbor and rivers are choked with boats of every description while in the distance we can see out to Winchester and Roxbury. The entire sheet is very good with some repair being done to the lower center fold, not effecting the image. $200.00

38.

38. (Missouri) Pictorial Map of Missouri Showing State Highway System, State Parks, Streams and County Seats, Missouri State Highway Commission, 1933, 19x26, full color

This map was issued as a bird's eye view of the state. The major roads and towns of the state are sketched on the map with the topography. It was done for the Chicago Exposition. Very good. $85.00 40.

39. (Nebraska-West) Map of Nebraska from explorations of Lt G. K. Warren top engr., US Govt., 1858, 9.5 x 10.5, B&W as issued

An outstanding little map giving substance to a better portion of the West. Showing the entirety of the Kansas and Nebraska territories as they ran from the Arkansas River in the south all the way to the Canadian border. While the major landmarks are shown a vast portion of the north is still "Unexplored" with potential routes that "should be examined" for railroad potential. A fantastic resource for a clear depiction of the forts and routes of the time. Condition is good with the expected browning to the folds and added margin to the lower left corner. $145.00

41.

40. (Nebraska) Nebraska, Colton, c1869, 17 x 25.25, full hand color

A grand and accurate map for a time when settlers had barely reached a third of the state. While the Union Pacific spans the state, little is present save a few forts and rail stops. A dramatic map. Condition is good save for a small marginal water stain at the top of the fold. $190.00

41. (New York -NYC) Plan of New York & c., Mitchell, 1862, framed to 22.5 x 20.5, hand color

The metropolis during the early Civil War era, shows rail lines, streets and notable locations. Prior to any bridge, ferry routes dot the rivers connecting to Jersey and Long Island. Beautifully framed with rich green cloth mat, inner liner and all archival precautions taken. $460.00

42. (North and South Dakota) Gray's New Map of Dakota, Gray, c1889, 25 x 16.5, hand color

A very attractive, large, fully colored map of the territory with each county distinctly colored. Virtually all towns are east of the Missouri River except those in the Black Hills and a few along the Northern Pacific line. Condition good with some supportive repairs near the fold. $95.00

43. (Ohio) Johnson's Ohio, Johnson and Ward, 1864, 17 x 23, full hand color

Perhaps our favorite state map showing just the Buckeye state with a nice vignette of the State Capitol in the corner. Each county is distinctly hand colored and the detail abounds for towns, railroads and river systems. Condition is good with light browning uniformly across the sheet. $90.00

44. (Oklahoma) Map of the Oklahoma Country in the Indian Territory, Cram, 1889, 11.5 x 9.5, printed outline color

Shows the earliest configuration for the newly born territory in its first primitive "T" shape as it was nestled in the heart of Indian Territory. Shows a wealth of detail about drainage, roads and towns for the area. Shows "Chisholms Cattle Trail" and "Chisholms Old Ranch" just west of Oklahoma City. Condition is very good. $85.00

45. (Oklahoma) Map of the Cherokee Strip, US Govt., 1893, 20.25 x 32.5, B&W as issued

A large map showing the situation of the great land rush in this part of present day northern Oklahoma. This rare map shows the roads and railroads, the Cherokee allotted lands and the "U.S. Booths" where you could register in preparation for the gun shot that would send everyone scampering for their stake. Condition is very good and has been supportively backed with tissue. A great find. $280.00

46. (Oregon) Clason's Guide Map of Oregon, 1910, 18.25 x 27.5, printed color

This is a classic advertising piece boasting about the potential of the state with "opportunities that can make you rich." Blazed across the top it states, "Oregon Orchards Yield Ten to One Hundred Times the Profit per Acre of Irrigated Farms." Surrounding the map is a detailed text on the land quality and the potential as well as a few photos. A rare novelty. Condition is very good. $95.00

47. (Pacific Northwest) Carte Des Nouvelles Decouvertes..., Santini, 1776, 18 x 25, hand color

Showing the latest discoveries as well as theories of the North American continent, this map includes explorers routes throughout the Pacific Northwest ("Tchirihow", "Kamtchatka", etc.), as well as the fantastic "Sea of the West." A fascinating study. Condition is very good with some minor discoloration near the top of the centerfold. $1500.00

44.

46.

47.

48.

48. (Texas) County Map of the State of Texas, Mitchell/Bradley, 1887, 14.5 x 22, full hand color

A nicely colored map of Texas and southern New Mexico. West Texas is beginning to be settled and the appearance of the towns there at this time is interesting. A large inset shows the plan of Galveston and its vicinity. $240.00

49.

49. (Texas) Texas, Fanning, 1853, 6.5 x 8.25, B & W as issued

A fine little map for Texas with an inset showing the state sprawling up to the Arkansas River and over through New Mexico. Great notations pop up in central Texas such as "Comanche Indians" and "Buffaloes and Wild Horses." Not a lot of counties developed at the time and few towns. A simple but attractive map. $90.00

50.

50. (West) The United States of North America, Pacific States., Blackie & Son, 1860, 13.5 x 10.25, Outline hand color

An interesting western sheet showing the majority of the West as it was divided into six or so large territories (Washington, Oregon, Nebraska, Utah, California, New Mexico and "Gadsden or Arizona"). Details the basic terrain as it was known along with numerous routes through the area, including "Fremont 1843" and "Spanish Trail California to Santa Fe." Reaches from border to border and as far east as Ft. Bridger and South Pass. Condition is good with some mild foxing and a close right margin. $110.00

51. (Utah-California) (Utah - Pacific Railroad Survey), US Govt.

Four maps issued by the Pacific Railroad Survey in the 1857 illustrating the area of Utah, west to California. Each sheet is about 21 x 18 and are titled:

1. Map No. 1 From the Valley of Green River to the Great Salt Lake.
2. Map No. 2 From Great Salt Lake to the Humboldt Mountains.
3. Map No. 3 From the Humboldt Mountains to the Mud Lakes.
4. Map No. 4 From the Valley of the Mud Lakes to the Pacific Ocean.

These maps cover present day Utah, Nevada and California with detailed topography of the lands, and are some of the earliest to detail these regions. Issued folded with the expected browning to the folds. A nice opportunity to get all four sheets. $325.00

52. (Wyoming) Territory of Wyoming, Mitchell, 1880, 11.5 x 14, full color

Scarce map of Wyoming with five counties each arranged vertically. All of northwestern Wyoming shown in hachured relief but the rest of northern Wyoming is poorly understood. A few towns have appeared near South Pass, as well as those along the railroad. Surrounded by a bit of decorative border, this is a rare and beautiful map. Condition is good with a close lower margin. $285.00

LATIN AMERICA

53. (Caribbean) Geographical, Statistical, and Historical Map of the Windward Islands., Carey & Lea, 1827, 16.75 x 20.75, Hand color

A great early American publication for these Caribbean Islands. Complimented by an interesting historical text. Shows the islands from Martinique to Trinidad. Condition is very good. $250.00

54. (Mexico & Central America) Map of Mexico & Guatemala, Mitchell, c1850, 12.25 x 15.25, full hand color

A nice map covering the region with several insets for key locations for a potential trans- Isthmus route. Brightly colored, it shows all of Central America & Mexico with its towns and major roads. Prior to the Gadsden purchase, this map shows Mexico as it still spanned to the Gila river. Marginal water staining on the left, otherwise very good. $150.00

55. (South America) (South America) Anon.- Japanese, 1886, 10 x 8.25, printed and hand color

An attractive map of the continent with interesting detail for the river systems and the topography. Done with a mix of printed and hand color, this map does include numerous place names shown. The sheet is lightly browned with some sporadic mild foxing, but doesn't mar the image. $90.00

ASIA & OCEANA

72.

72. (Australia - New Zealand) New Holland and New Zealand, Greenleaf, 1842, 11 x 13.5, hand color

A rare American published map of Australia and New Zealand when they had little settlement. Little information is provided beyond the near coast, except for a portion of Southeast Australia, and parts of New Zealand. A colorful and distinctive image. Boldly colored. $180.00 74.

73. (China) The Empire of China, Bellin, 1748, 11.5 x 16, hand color

A fine French map for this large portion of Asia, including the far reaches of China and Korea. Wonderfully crude, but basically accurate. Notes many place names including the Great Wall. Complimented by an attractive cartouche. Condition very good. $290.00

75.

74. (Japan) (Japan), anon, 1845, two sheets both 8 x 5.5 each, B&W as issued

The earliest Japanese published map of Japan and its islands that we've offered. Divided into province with many towns and place names noted, this map in two sheets covers Japan from the coast of Korea to the southern coast of the island of Hokkaido. Both sheets have some marginal worming and the left sheet has wear and a spot where the paper is rubbed through, fortunately most of this condition doesn't effect the image. A rare and interesting map. $245.00

76.

75. (Middle East - India) First Part of Asia being Turkey, Arabia, Persia , most of India and Tartary, Bolton, 1774, 29 x 30.5, B&W

Rivers, towns, tribes, all of these are addressed with amazing consistency spanning from the remote reaches of western China, to the islands off the Turkish coast, and as far south as the Maldive islands in the Indian Ocean. While centered on Persia, most of the regions known received equal consideration. Complimented by a nice cartouche, this pristine engraving is large and uncommon. $1000.00

77.

76. (Middle East) Geographische Belchrei bung des Landschafften...., Anon.- German, 1674, 12.5 x 19.25, Full hand color

A German Bible map that condensed the life and tract of St. Paul's journeys as he traveled throughout the Mediterranean. The map spans from the heart of the Middle East, west to southern Italy and Sicily. Above and below the map are a series of vignettes showing the progression of St. Paul's life. Beautifully hand colored. $300.00

77. (Oceania) (Oceana), Anon.- Japanese, 1886, 8.25 x 10, printed color

Covering the Pacific from the North American coast to South East Asia, this Japanese published map shows Oceana, including Australia, New Zealand and the East Indies. Some islands chains are named and some place names are shown on Australia. A light tan and green printed color shows some basic land quality. The sheet is lightly browned with age and some minor worming occurs in the left margin, just catching a bit of the image. $95.00

78. (Oceania) Map of the China Seas showing Philippine Islands, Harper's Weekly, 1898, 14 x 8.5 (with illustration), printed color

A map with color and flair, it shows the latest conquest in the Philippines with a large US flag staked to the island of Luzon as the flags of Spain, France, Britain and others dot their colonial possessions throughout South East Asia and the East Indies. Published just a month or so into the Spanish-American War the map is complimented by an illustration of US soldiers looking neat and dashing in the "New Campaign Uniform." $85.00

79. (Thailand, Burma, Laos) Siam, Anon.-British, 1898, 12 x 9, full color

It's a common request, but an uncommon find to come across maps that focus well on South East Asia. This does the job well, reaching from Saigon in "French Cochinchina" in the south to the "Independent Shan States" and China in the north. Well detailed. $75.00

87. RUTH TAYLOR WHITE, 1935, 9 x 12

A graphic illustrator, Ruth Taylor White did some of the most attractive illustrated maps in the early twentieth century. She captured the culture, geography and even a bit of the history of each area she mapped, and her work has quickly gained a growing following. The following selection of maps includes a portion of what we have in stock for her, and each is reasonably priced. Image size is 9 x12. Full of vignettes that aren't always politically correct, they do capture a whimsical quality and optimism that might just be a woman's touch.

88. ARBUCKLES, c1890, 3 x 5

It is said that at the time Arbuckle's coffee could be found in the knapsack of every cowboy, and across the US, it had become a household name that was well known. As a promotion in c1890, the Arbuckle company produced a colorful set of trading cards that showed a map of each state or territory, surrounded by scenes particular to the region. The size of each is 3 x 5. Following is a selection of these cards, and yes, we do have more both national and international.
